A Word from the Principal

“The future does have a name...and its name is hope.”

Pope Francis

Already this term the College has come together to celebrate the word of God. Firstly, we took to the Cathedral and Fr Brian celebrated Mass with us. Then last week the College came together again to celebrate Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. Father reminded the students that this celebration marked the beginning of a time of preparation, time to reflect and pray, time to focus on improving ourselves and on giving hope. This time marks our preparation for Easter and all it brings to us and in the words of Pope Francis, it brings hope.

Hope is all around us. Working in a school like Mount Carmel, hope is often in the eyes of the students. Our students wonder at how they can make a difference to the world around them – whatever the issue might be. They see an issue and think about ways to resolve it. They are not constrained by any limitations. They delve, ask questions and consider responses. They are inspired by each other, by the women who studied at the College before them and the staff who work alongside them. At the recent International Women’s Day Breakfast, held at Fahan for the Alliance schools, a staff member shared with me the extraordinary experience of turning up at the hospital to find that everyone she came into contact with, from the admitting nurse to the registrar and the supervising doctor, were Old Scholars from Mount Carmel. Old Scholars in fields of medicine, law, finance, research and human services just to name a few. Last night, Guilford Young College celebrated their Commendation Evening and amongst the names of students being commended were a number of Mount Carmel Old Scholars. Hope is all around us, in the generation of students which follow us. Hope is in the smiles of those we meet, the kind words that we use to talk with one another and the care we show all. This Lent, be an expression of hope for all those you meet.

Pope Francis' Words

Do you want to fast this Lent?

Fast from hurting words and say kind words.

Fast from sadness and be filled with gratitude.

Fast from anger and be filled with patience.

Fast from pessimism and be filled with hope.

Fast from worries and trust in God.

Fast from complaints and contemplate simplicity.

Fast from pressures and be prayerful.

Fast from bitterness and fill your heart with joy.

Fast from selfishness and be compassionate to others.

Fast from grudges and be reconciled.

Fast from words and be silent so you can listen

Strategic Planning

This year the College will commence it's strategic planning. Glenn McLachlan from PLI will be facilitating this process with the community. The Master building plan will be finalised to align with the Strategic Plan.

Bullying. No Way!

Education is a shared commitment between teachers, students and parents. IN order to achieve improved student outcomes, we must have a shared purpose one that achieved through shared conversations and shared actions. With this key message in mind I would like to draw attention to several key initiatives.

Friday, March 15 is a National Day of Action against bullying and violence. This year the theme is Bullying, No Way! Take action every day. We all have a responsibility to stand united against bullying and violence so that collectively we are creating safer communities for everyone – in the classroom, in schools and beyond.

What is bullying?

Bullying is an ongoing and deliberate misuse of power in relationships through repeated verbal, physical and/or social behaviour that intends to cause physical, social and/or psychological harm. It can involve an individual or a group misusing their power, or perceived power, over one or more persons who feel unable to stop it from happening. Bullying can happen in person or online, via various digital platforms and devices and it can be obvious (overt) or hidden (covert). Bullying behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Bullying of any form or for any reason can have immediate, medium and long-term effects on those involved, including bystanders. Single incidents and conflict or fights between equals, whether in person or online, are not defined as bullying. www.bullyingnoway.gov.au

At Monday's Prep to Year 6 Assembly the Year 5 and 6 Leaders will outline how we can stand united against bullying by providing tips for students and outlining activities that will take place in the yard next week. The national statistics around bullying are incredibly alarming with one in four students being bullied in person, and one in five online.

On the home front, parents and carers play a vital role work in preventing bullying and responding effectively if it happens. Key tips are provided in the following card.

Playing it Safe

During the past fortnight there has been considerable discussion about the Momo Challenge, an online game. The scary doll-like figure allegedly targets children and teens, asking them to participate in a game which involves setting them challenges or dares.

It is a timely reminder about ensuring that we are helping our children to be safe online. The best way to keep children and young people safe is to talk with them and be involved in their online world.

Setting up safe internet use:

There are things you can do to help keep children safe online, for example, filter unsuitable content or monitor their internet use.

You could:

- enable Google SafeSearch on all devices
- enable parental controls on streaming services such as YouTube, Netflix and AppleTV
- install software that filters content or lets you choose what times devices can be used/not used
- get to know how your child's phone or device works so you can help them use it safely
- know children's email addresses and passwords so you can monitor activity. If you do this, remember to let children know what you are doing and why
- check the permissions you are giving when you or your children install a new app. Your personal data such as photos and documents might be accessible to others. Read unbiased reviews before installing apps
- know how your device stores data, and whether this is secure. Many devices use 'cloud storage', e.g. Google Drive or Apple iCloud, to store data such as documents, photos or videos. Make sure children and young people:
- know the risks and benefits of 'geo-location' or 'checking-in' functions that identify their location. These can be limited or disabled

If your child talks to you about bullying:

1. Listen calmly and get the full story.
2. Reassure your child that they are not to blame.
3. Ask your child what they want to do about it and how you can help.
4. Visit www.bullyingnoway.gov.au to find some strategies.
5. Contact the school.
6. Check in regularly with your child.

BULLYING. NO WAY!
www.bullyingnoway.gov.au

- use a PIN or access code on their phone or device so if they are stolen they can't be used to send negative texts or images to contact lists
- do not expose younger children to inappropriate content.

During the coming weeks I will continue to provide tips about how we can collectively work together to educate the students so that they be safe online.

NAPLAN Online - Term 2 (14-16 May)

The National Assessment Program – Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN) assesses literacy and numeracy skills that are essential for every child to progress through school and life. Students in Years 3, 5, 7 and 9 participate in the annual NAPLAN tests in reading, writing, conventions of language (spelling, grammar and punctuation) and numeracy.

The assessment provides parents and schools with an understanding of how individual students are performing at the time of the tests. NAPLAN is just one aspect of a school's assessment and reporting process - it does not replace ongoing assessments made by teachers about student performance.

In 2019 most students across Australia will sit NAPLAN online. At Mount Carmel College, the Year 5, 7 and 9 students will complete the online assessments while the Year 3 students will continue with the paper tests. To ensure that the Year 5 and 7 students are familiar with the online format, the students will be involved in practice tests on Monday 8 and Tuesday 9 April.

Although NAPLAN Online is not a test of keyboard skills students are encouraged to have a keyboard especially for the writing assessment.

Why online? One of the main benefits of NAPLAN Online is tailored (or adaptive) testing, where the test automatically adapts to a student's test performance. The test presents questions of higher or lower complexity, depending on a student's performance. A student's overall NAPLAN score is based on the number and complexity of questions they answer correctly.

More details about NAPLAN will be provided at the commencement of Term 2.

Identity and Mission

Lent

On Ash Wednesday last week Primary and Secondary students were marked with the sign of the cross as a reminder of our need for God in our lives, especially during this time of Lent. Ashes have a rich history from the Jewish – and in turn – Christian heritage, symbolising our human imperfection and the need for God's grace and mercy. Just as fire has the power to regenerate vegetation, ashes burnt from last year's palms serve as a reminder of our own spiritual life. The mark on our foreheads with ash is an outward sign of our need for God's tenderness and compassion in our lives. It reminds us of our pledge to make changes in our lives that will build up our relationship with God and with one another.

During this time of Lent we may pause and reflect:

- What does it look like for me, personally, to be God's ambassador?
- How can I allow room for God to grow in my life?

Project Compassion

Project Compassion is Caritas Australia's annual Lenten fundraising and awareness-raising appeal. Millions of Australians come together in solidarity with the world's poor to help end poverty, promote justice and uphold dignity.

Last week all families received Project Compassion boxes with the intention that they be filled in order to assist those living in poverty. Our Secondary Mission Sisters held a Pancake Day on Shrove Tuesday. A multitude of pancakes were cooked and sold at lunchtime with a choice of toppings. The money raised was donated to Project Compassion.

On Wednesday 10 April, a Kilometres for Compassion day is being organised by the Primary Mission Sisters, with all students from Kinder to Year 6 walking with their buddies for a nominated distance. Students will be encouraged to seek sponsorship from friends and family with all proceeds going directly to Project Compassion.

This week's Project Compassion story focuses on Thandolwayo. It is heartening to hear how the efforts of Caritas Australia were able to help this 12 year old from Zimbabwe.

Read more about her story by clicking on the link: <https://lent.caritas.org.au/page/week-1#>

Please donate to Project Compassion 2019 to provide clean water and a future full of hope for vulnerable communities in Zimbabwe.

Curriculum News

Welcome to Week Six

The term is going so quickly. Currently students in all years are working on assessment tasks. Please monitor the time your daughter spends on tasks. The majority of assessment pieces will be completed in class, but on occasion there will be some finishing off required during homework time. Your daughter should not be spending hours on homework. If this is the case, please contact teachers so that we can monitor and see what is happening.

Learning Conferences

Learning Conferences will be held on Monday 25 March and Tuesday 2 April for all students from Kinder to Year 10. These will all be held in Providence House and gives parents, carers, students and teachers an opportunity to discuss progress, goals and monitor learning.

Curriculum Captains

I am very excited to introduce our Curriculum Captains for the year - Rose Goward and Sarah Wilson-Haffenden. We meet regularly and both Rose and Sarah have wonderful ideas about lifting the profile of curriculum and letting our community know about the all of the great things that are happening in our classes, from Kinder through to Year 10. Harmony Day

Harmony Day in Australia has been held on March 21 since 1999, coinciding with the United Nations International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination. Harmony Day has grown over time into Harmony Week, 17th - 23rd March, a week celebrating Australia's cultural diversity.

Living in Hobart and attending Mount Carmel College each day, it is easy to forget just how culturally diverse Australia is. Harmony Week allows us an opportunity to consider the cultural makeup of our Nation and reflect on whether we are truly a culturally inclusive society where everyone is treated with dignity and feels a deep sense of belonging.

Reading fiction is just one way we may gain insight and understanding into our cultural diversity, so that we are able to develop connections with people who have a different cultural background to our own. Research by psychologist David Comer Kidd and Emanuele Castano, at the New School for Social Research in New York, has shown that reading literary fiction enhances the ability to detect and understand other people's emotions, a crucial skill in navigating complex social relationships (Bury, 2013). An ability to empathise is crucial to the wellbeing of a society and what better way to build empathy than immersing oneself in the lives of another through the reading of fiction.

We will be celebrating Harmony Week here at the O'Brien Resource Centre with students being engaged with stories representative of all cultures that make our country such a richly diverse society.

Digital Technologies

Digital Technologies - Years 7 and 8

Although we meet many of the Digital Technologies curriculum in current subjects such as Mathematics and Science, there are a few areas which need specialist time and resources at the Year 7 and Year 8 level. For instance, the Australian Curriculum requires that we “Investigate how data is transmitted and secured in wired, wireless and mobile networks, and how the specifications affect performance”. Therefore our work with students needs to include information about components that control the movement of data including routers, hubs, switches and bridges. Some of this specialist knowledge is difficult to cover in our regular curriculum.

To meet this requirement the Curriculum Team have approved four full days of instruction for all of Year 7 and Year 8 students specifically on Digital Technologies curriculum not covered by other subjects. These days will be scattered throughout the year and will be assessed and reported upon as per normal.

If you have any questions or concerns about this curriculum, please do not hesitate to contact the school.
